

Paul Revere Culminating Performance

Choose one of the options below to share your knowledge about Paul Revere.
Be prepared to share your final product with the class!

Choice 1

You are editor-in-chief of Important People Magazine! You have two tasks to prepare so that your latest magazine is ready to hit the shelves in 2 weeks! First, you must design a cover that portrays Paul Revere's life and his contributions to the U.S. Next, you must write an editorial that showcases Revere's life as an American hero.

Choice 2

Channel 2 News needs you! Are you excited about staying on the move and traveling around to interview people? Well, your next assignment is to interview Paul Revere. You will be asking him questions about his contributions to America. You must conduct a thorough interview with questions pertaining to his contributions to America, his travels in Massachusetts, and his character traits. You will use www.goanimate.com (or another digital resource) to present your interview. (HINT! You may want someone to video you and Paul Revere talking)

Choice 3

Learning about Paul Revere is music to my ears! You are musical, talented, and knowledgeable about Paul Revere. Create a rap or other song to a good beat that shares his contributions to America, his character traits, and his travels.

Choice 4

You are important Paul Revere! Become Paul Revere by creating a bottle figure and write a biography portraying his life, his contributions to America, and his character traits. Use a 2 liter bottle for the body and a foam sphere for the head. I can't wait to see the artist in you portrayed in your work!
